FB/IG:

- Most of the 82,000 people in California's jails still have the right to vote, but without support it can be almost impossible for them to cast their votes while incarcerated. You can change that!

This toolkit is designed to empower community members to work with local officials to set up voting programs in their jails

- Most people in California jails still have the right to vote, but misinformation and logistical hurdles can make it nearly impossible for them to get and submit a ballot. This toolkit is a step-by-step guide to increasing access to voting in your local jail. <https://www.letmevoteca.org/toolkit/>
- Fighting voter suppression means dismantling the obstacles that prevent people from voting. There are thousands of people in jail who legally have the right to vote, but struggle to cast their ballot from behind bars. With this toolkit, you can help change that: <https://www.letmevoteca.org/toolkit/>
